

Cancellations and Inclement Weather FAQs

As a general rule, entry fees are non-refundable after the closing date for all shows on our calendar. There are three exceptions:

1. Should we cancel a show for any reason, entry fees may be refunded or may be moved to another date in the same season. Any fees carried forward to another show must be used during the current show season. They will not be refunded if they remain unused at the end of the season, nor may they be carried forward to the next show season.
2. If a show is rescheduled to another date for any reason, riders will be offered the opportunity to move their fees to the new date for that show or to a future date on our show schedule for that season. Decisions regarding moving an entry to a future date must be confirmed prior to the closing date for that show. Any fees carried forward to another show will not be refunded if they remain unused at the end of the season, nor may they be carried forward to the next show season.
3. If our show is full and a rider must cancel, the fees may be refunded if the entry can be filled by another. Entries will not be accepted after the closing date and we no longer create a waiting list if the show is full.

Inclement Weather

Typically, we do not cancel shows because of rain. However, if prolonged heavy rains make ground conditions unsuitable or unsafe for riding or for parking trailers, we will reschedule that show to another date during the season. For refunds in this case, see Items 1 and 2 above.

Notifications of a change in schedule due to inclement weather will be communicated to all registered riders as soon as possible or within 24 hours prior to the show.
